

SUSTAINABILITY AT PAHLKE SCHAUMSTOFFE

WHAT MOTIVATES AND DRIVES US

It's a simple fact that living and doing business are activities that use resources and pollute the environment. But to what extent? We have a choice: Do we want to be part of the problem or part of the solution?

Pahlke Schaumstoffe wants to be part of the solution.

We're aware that we're part of a complex system in which all our actions affect our fellow human beings and our environment. As a family-run industrial company, we feel a particular responsibility to make an active contribution towards minimising our negative impact – especially in areas where foam will remain indispensable because of its material advantages. We're driven by our desire to secure a future worth living for our children and grandchildren.

For this reason, we're focused on two areas of activity:

► SUSTAINABLE PROCESSING

Despite the various efficiency and savings measures that we have already implemented, there is still untapped potential within our company, and we must exploit it systematically.

► SUSTAINABLE MATERIALS

If we really want to become more environmentally friendly, we must also actively address the materials we use, which are currently still almost exclusively petroleum-based.
